ABOUT ME

A hardworking and self-motivated graduate B.sc. in petroleum engineering (research & production), I am an aspiring MSc. Engineering management (industrial process) student with a strong dedication to building a career in management/analytics and I also have fundamental knowledge in project management. With good communication skills, vast leadership experience and advanced computer skills.

I am seeking to develop and utilize my educational background to gain experience by taking on challenging tasks. I'm also willing to learn new skills and ideas for the growth of the organization.
